

Distinguished professor Sharada Ghate passes away

Published: September 5, 2017 | Publication: Daijiworld

Sharada Ghate (80), former distinguished professor in Canara Pre-University College and long-time Rashtra Sevika Samiti activist, peacefully passed away on Sunday, September 3 in Yenepoya Hospital after a brief illness. She was the wife of former general secretary of Bharatiya Mazdoor Sangh late Prabhakar Ghate.

She is survived by son Sudhir Ghate, founder, chairman of Magnum Intergrafiks Pvt Ltd, daughters, relatives, and friends.

Known as a strict disciplinarian, she was a writer and orator par excellence. Her patriotic feelings were exemplary and she was very popular among the students. She was known to help the needy.